

NUXEO

Content Federation Services

Your organization has information spread across multiple systems—Nuxeo delivers that information to you in one place.

1 Complete Content View

Nuxeo delivers a 360° view of the information within your organization. Whether you are looking to manage clients, cases, suppliers, invoices—getting fast access to all of the information relating to that entity saves time and increases productivity.

2 Out of the Box Connectors

Nuxeo delivers over 60 out of the box connectors to other ECM systems, core business systems, file sharing apps, and more.

3 Non-Disruptive

Nuxeo not only operates in harmony with your existing systems, but our content federation capabilities enhance and enrich information residing in other systems to intelligently deliver information to users from a central hub.

Nuxeo provides the industry's most advanced Content Services Platform (CSP) to help organizations unlock the hidden value of their content—wherever it resides. Our federation capabilities connect your enterprise information systems together for rapid access.

75% of organizations have information spread across multiple systems.*

Connected to Anything

Every organization has information and content stored in multiple places—file systems, legacy applications, content systems, and more. With out of the box connectors to over 60 systems, Nuxeo recognizes this and provides tools to allow you to manage this challenge from on central place, without the need to move or replace your existing systems.

Modern Architecture

The Nuxeo platform is the only modern Content Services Platform that was built in the era of the cloud using true open source architecture. Nuxeo's cloud-native architecture allows for rapid deployment in any environment (on-premises, cloud or hybrid) and the open source power of the platform enables the flexibility, scalability and extensibility to allow organizations to realize the full value of their content and achieve digital transformation.

Built for Enterprise Workloads

Nuxeo has been designed and built to handle true enterprise workloads, where multiple systems come together to work with billions of content, data and information items.

Work the Way You Want

Nuxeo is architected to combine the power of content and document management with custom user interfaces, enabling the rapid creation of robust and customized content-driven solutions designed to meet the specific needs of organizations and their users.

Manages All Content Types

Manage traditional content types (MS Office, PDF, emails) and digital assets (rich media—audio, video, geospatial) using a boundless data model. The Nuxeo CSP includes customizable versioning, tagging, metadata and rendering capabilities.

Built-In Workflow and Automation

Built-in workflow and automation capabilities enable rapid creation and deployment of business-driven applications. A visual, drag and drop interface allows business users to easily build and configure workflows that streamline manual processes while also providing a deeper level of visibility into these processes.
