

A Modern Solution for Financial Services Organizations

The rise of non-traditional competition from BigTech and other emerging industries has forced financial services organizations to re-evaluate the processes and systems they use to manage information. Inefficiencies in traditional content delivery systems adversely affect all aspects of business profitability: customer retention, share of wallet, and market share. With AIIM reporting that 76% of organizations are unable to quickly find the information needed to perform daily business functions, modernization of information systems has become critical for every financial services organization that wants to stay competitive in a rapidly changing technological landscape.

The Challenge

Many existing enterprise applications are built on monolithic legacy technologies. Expensive to maintain and requiring significant lead time to deliver value, the valuable technologies of yesteryear have become a virtual anchor weighing organizations down. In a digital world where customer expectations are rising with each passing year, these systems can no longer meet the operational needs of businesses ... nor the customers they serve. Financial services organizations must rapidly modernize their outdated systems — or face the consequences of losing customers to the competition. Luckily, modernization doesn't have to be a painful process.

The Nuxeo Content Services Platform (CSP) delivers an agile solution that addresses the needs of today's financial services organizations. With an open source and cloud-native foundation, Nuxeo leverages technologies such as artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) to deliver an agile and flexible platform that paves the way for firms to rapidly and strategically modernize their information systems.

We deliver next-generation technology and methodologies to maximize the value of your existing Enterprise Content Management (ECM) infrastructure and legacy applications where your invaluable information resides. With Nuxeo, it's faster and easier than ever to modernize operations, fuel the customer experience, and future-proof information systems.

The Nuxeo Solution

The Nuxeo Content Services Platform unifies and extends the use of digital information across the enterprise with a solution developed for the modern era. Nuxeo was designed to fit the needs of today's financial services organizations, modernizing their operations and transforming the way they:

- Deliver value to customers
- Ensure security and compliance
- Increase revenue
- Future-proof business operations

The Nuxeo Path to Modernizing Legacy Applications

Our Connect + Consolidate approach reflects the needs of today's modern organizations. We enable firms to maximize the value of current IT investments and minimize business disruptions, while strategically modernizing for the future.

Connect the Nuxeo platform to your existing legacy applications and disparate content systems to unify your information into a centralized access hub to view, manage and use valuable content. The advantages of connecting systems with Nuxeo include:

- Eliminate information silos
- Leverage existing IT investments
- Streamline processes & information access
- Realize rapid ROI

Consolidate systems and repositories at your own pace as more information routes through the Nuxeo platform and outdated applications become increasingly obsolete. When the time is right, move data and content from expensive legacy applications to Nuxeo (or any other repository) without impacting end users. The advantages of consolidation with Nuxeo include:

- Migrate information strategically
- Retire outdated & duplicative systems
- Remove risks
- Mitigate business impact
- Reduce total cost of ownership (TCO)

The Nuxeo Platform

Nuxeo delivers a modern, connected, and personalized solution for delivering value throughout the organization. These three building blocks are the cornerstones of modernizing information management applications.

Modern	Connected	Personalized
Open source and cloud-native architecture	Federates content into a single information hub	Low-code development and configurable access controls
AI and Machine Learning enabled metadata model	Integrates with existing systems	Customized solutions connecting content, data, people and process
Highly-performant with independently scalable components	Complete inbound and outbound microservices API	Mobile-enabled solutions
Rich Digital Asset Management (DAM)	On prem, cloud or hybrid deployment options	Easy to adapt as business requirements change
Manages any content type	Agile application development	Built-In workflow & automation

To learn more about how Nuxeo is helping financial services firms and other organizations modernize their approach to information management or to schedule a demonstration of the Nuxeo platform please visit nuxeo.com.

NUXEO

Shape the Future of Financial Services.
 Modernize Your Information Systems with Nuxeo.
 Start your modernization journey
 today at www.nuxeo.com!

